

Flint Walton

Flint Walton is the Safety and Risk Technical Services and Training Specialist at Missouri Employers Mutual. In this role, he is responsible for conducting MEM employee and policyholder training, including customized training for associations, safety conferences and business groups.

Flint began his career at MEM in 2002 as a Senior Loss Prevention Consultant. This role exposed him to field work primarily with construction accounts. Flint assisted with identifying safety program deficiencies and implementing corrective actions, such as Industrial Hygiene controls. In 2006, he was promoted to Technical Services Manager.

Prior to MEM, Flint worked for Thrivent Financial, a not-for-profit insurance and financial services company and Zurich Construction Services as a Senior Risk Engineering Consultant.

Flint received a double master's in Safety Management and Industrial Safety from Central Missouri State University, an associate's in Loss Control Management and his Certificate in General Insurance. He is a Defensive Driving Course Instructor with the National Safety Council and received training certifications from the North American Crane Bureau, Inc., the Scaffold Training Institute and is an Approved Professional Safety Source for the State of Arkansas.
